MTSC

it stands,
locked in the immobility
of a stone foundation . . .
locked in the impregnable structure of our hearts . . .
the name . . .
and a thousand, thousand images flash through the mind.
these are the images
it has left of you.

FIVE IMAGES

Night (silence settling lazily) on the campus.
Frost bathes the lawn.
    The trees are bare and proud.
Spring seems different.
    The campus smiles in Spring.
The flowers (careful not to walk on) bloom.
    Colors appear.
Sunshine bathes the lawn.
    Season to season the loop, the buildings, the landscapes:
Each adds its own decoration.

A BEAUTIFUL CAMPUS

"This is not a cellophane bag . . .
    (We heard when we came here) . . .
        This is the world" . . . and we began to work.
There is pride that comes (flowing) over us when we talk about our school . . .
        we're proud of what we are and pride is no sin for burning inside we have a desire . . .
        a desire to make ourselves better.
So we set our academic standards high . . .
    and then we climb up to them . . .
        and then we raise them again.

HIGH ACADEMIC STANDARDS

A PEOPLE'S COLLEGE

MTSC has a special meaning . . .

a meaning derived from the lives of its students . . .

a meaning derived from the lives of people themselves . . .

red-blooded,

Fun-loving people

a meaning derived from a hundred different walks of life

from the bank,

the farm,

the city,

the village,

the doctor's office

From a multitude of different homes; different states, different backgrounds.

A LOYAL ALUMNI

We never realize (do we) that the good old times . . .
Those days enjoyed so well . . .
Those days are these days . . .
And the time will come
When we find that the weekends which seemed so dull were not dull,
And the professor (so dumb)
wasn't dumb,
And his class (so long) wasn't long,
but was long, long ago.

A FRIENDLY STUDENT BODY

One word that describes the attitude of the students at MTSC is SPRING.
In every season (winter even) our students are fresh . . . smiling . . . happy.
They're polite. They (cheerfully) give directions . . .
instructions (misconstrued) . . .
advice (parental) . . .
or just general information.
They like to help . . .
and talk . . . people that love to talk.
Friendly faces . . . thin . . . round . . . perpendicular even, but full of talk . . . and smile.
Friendly is (another) the word that describes our students.

OUTSTANDING ALUMNI

Mr. Robert Abernathy

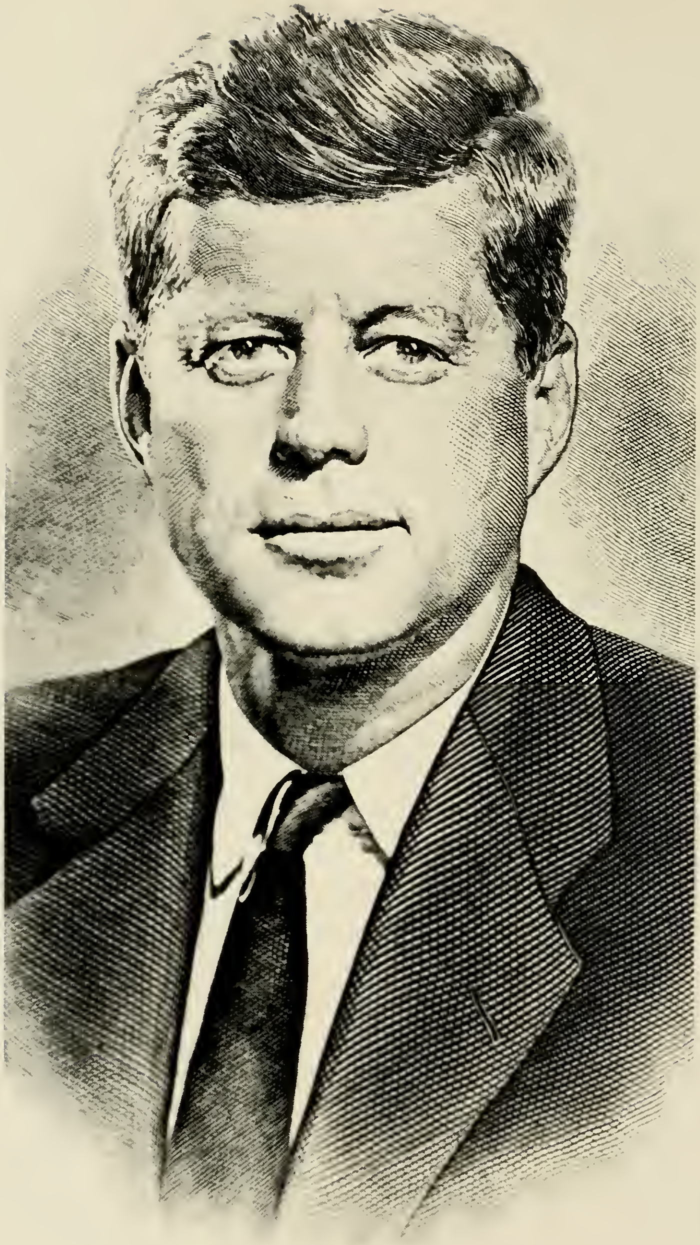
Mr. Robert Abernathy of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, is Director of Field Services at Middle Tennessee State College. A member of the Class of 1929, he is in great demand as a speaker in widely diversified areas. A great recruiter of students for his Alma Mater, a humorist in his own right, a master of repartee, a genius in public relations, he is MTSC's most effective "Roving Ambassador."

Mr. Fred Gilliam

Mr. Fred Gilliam of Manchester, Tennessee, is Attorney-General of the Seventh Judicial District. A member of the Class of 1929, he has had and is experiencing a distinguished career in Tennessee law. His vocational and civic cloak of many colors has the segments of the educator, alderman, bank director, hospital commissioner, Sunday School teacher, and many others.

Mr. Rex Turman

Mr. Rex Turman of Savannah, Tennessee, is Assistant Superintendent of Schools of Hardin County. A member of the Class of 1930, he has run the long gamut of education. Beginning as a classroom teacher, he has successively and successfully held many administrative positions, has been honored with the presidencies of three local education associations, the Tennessee Education Association, and the Tennessee Principals Association. In addition, he is an active minister and at one time was postmaster at Waynesboro, Tennessee.



JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

THIRTY-FIFTH PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES
1917—1963

IN MEMORIAM

The solemn beat of muffled drums ending the Summer of his triumph.
A riderless horse . . .
Stirrups reversed . . .
A hero's tribute for a hero dearly loved . . .
A half-mast flag . . .
And a nation mourned its loss . . .
They had lost him
But not what he gave
For what he gave is beyond loss:
He gave a challenge to be great
He gave the nation a reason to be proud
He gave the dare of responsibility.
He gave himself.

Admitting one thousand freshmen plus half that many more . . .
Doggedly plowing through an avalanche of applications . . .
Meeting the problems of expanding curriculum and enrollment, and the Interminable array of daily crises and student "suggestions" (helpful)
Not to mention the Inevitable closed classes . . . late registrations . . . and Sorrowful appeals for (please) "one more semester."
The foresight to plan the future . . . the Reserved wisdom to build soundly for the present
And the preservation of the best loved traditions of the past.
These are the basic abstractions Inherent in those dedicated individuals whose work is Often unnoticed, sometimes unappreciated, but without which MTSC would have Never become what it is today . . .
and what it will become tomorrow.

SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

School Director--Dr. Clay Tucker

The School of Arts and Sciences includes the departments of Biology, Chemistry and Physics, Languages, Mathematics, and Social Sciences. Pre-professional programs are essential part of the five departments found within this school.

The general courses required of all candidates for the B.S. and B.A. degrees as well as subject-matter requirements for either secondary school teaching or for entry into graduate school are found within this school. The director of this school is Dr. Clay Tucker.

Fourteen teachers received their masters degree in August, 1963, through the National Science Foundation.

BIOLOGY

The Department of Biology is one of many rapidly growing departments on campus. The department has recently added a new faculty member and also a new course which affords academically superior students opportunity to do advanced work in certain fields. There are now one hundred and thirty-two students majoring in Biology.

The major objective of the Biology Department involves presenting a sound basic curriculum which should adequately prepare students for teaching or graduate work in Biology.

The Department of Biology sponsors the Biology Club which has established the George Davis Biology Club Loan Fund. This fund is available to Biology majors planning to enter graduate school. The Biology Club also presents "stunt night" each year.

In the past five years, the Chemistry and Physics Department has increased from seven to thirteen faculty members, three of whom have been added this year. The department has increased so rapidly as a whole that plans are being made to construct a new building in the near future.

The department has initiated a program to permit outstanding students to advance more rapidly. This is in conjunction with the department's wish to give the best possible training in chemistry, physics, and pre-professional courses to its two hundred and eighty-seven majors.

For the past six years the department has been selected to receive a National Science Foundation grant in order to offer the science teachers of this area the opportunity to participate in a Summer Institute for secondary school teachers of science and mathematics.

College graduates with majors in English may become teachers, writers, reporters, editors, radio and television announcers, or enter many other fields.

Those interested in modern foreign languages may choose among French, Spanish, and German. In most instances, those courses are taught by staff members who are native of the countries represented by their particular instructional area.

In the fall of 1964 the new Theatre on the MTSC campus will be completed. Seating one thousand students, it should be one of the finest and best equipped educational theatres in the mid-state area. The large stage and orchestra pit will enable campus Thespians to put their talents into practice as the extended theatre program is planned includes original plays and workshop plays executed by the students.

Debate tournaments in the winter and speech contests in the spring are sponsored by the department, bringing approximately three hundred students each year to the campus.

ART EDUCATION

The growing Art Department, which occupies the third floor of the Fine Arts Building, has added a new member this year to its corps of artists-teachers. The department, in its program of expansion, has moved the sculpture and ceramics into a prefab house.

In addition to students' work, the teachers exhibit their work, not only on this campus but throughout the state. MTSC's Art Department was the first, outside Memphis, to exhibit at the Brooks Memorial Gallery in Memphis. The faculty and students won ten ribbons at the 1963 Tennessee State Fair.

Although the department is keyed to the art education major, its graduates may also enter the fields of commercial and fine art.

EDUCATION

"The strength of the Education Department, unlike other departments, cannot be measured in terms of the number of majors because the department's chief effort is in the area of the content of methods and supporting disciplines such as philosophy, sociology, and psychology as these apply to teaching."

The School of Education interrelates theory and practice throughout its curriculum. Besides studying from textbooks and lectures, students observe at the Campus School and practice teach in various schools throughout the state, thereby integrating method with study for prospective teachers.

Recently, the department has developed and received approval for a minor in psychology in addition to a program to prepare kindergarten teachers. The department is in the process of putting these programs into effect.

MTSC's musicians also perform at various other times during the year. One of the most significant contributions to our cultural education is the student opera given each spring in conjunction with the Drama Club. School Director--Dr. Howard Kirksey

SCHOOL OF APPLIED SCIENCE

The School of Applied Science includes the departments of Agriculture, Business, and Industrial Arts. Within this school, these departments offer sufficient courses to prepare the prospective teacher for the classroom of our state and nation. Also skills and knowledge necessary for entrance into and leadership in the business community and industry of the state may be contracted from major programs within these departments. Military Science is attached to this school.

Dr. Howard Kirksey is serving as acting director since, at this time, a director has not been chosen for this school.

The Industrial Arts Department prepares over 200 students for work in a field related to Industrial Arts.

Mickey O'Bryan, representing the Sam Davis Drill Team, presents a trophy to Major Price for display in the ROTC Department.

Department Head--Dr. Theodore Bigger

AGRICULTURE

One of the most productive units on the campus is the Agriculture Department. This department, the MTSC "farm," occupies over five hundred acres of choice farmland. It is on this farm that the agriculture majors put their learning to practical use. They provide all of the milk and eggs used in MTSC's cafeterias.

During the past year something new has been added to MTSC's Agriculture Department, their own Tennessee walking horses! Sired by "Max Choice" out of "Lady Red Head," "Raider's Choice" is a ribbon-winning colt.

Agriculture students perform daily chores on the MTSC farm.

BUSINESS

Specialized business education for entrance into business education, accounting, and many other business fields is the objective of MTSC's Business Department.

Ably headed by Mr. E. W. Midgett, who has recently had a business textbook published, this department is expanding rapidly to fill the needs of its eight hundred and twenty-eight majors. Seven new faculty members have been added as have several new and improved courses. Classes are being offered from 8:00 a.m. until 8:40 p.m. in order to accommodate its students' needs.

The department co-sponsors, with the Gamma Chi chapter of PI OMEGA PI, several contests for area high school business students.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The Industrial Arts Department boasts of a new faculty member, Mr. Neil Ellis, and a new program in industrial technology, in addition to the programs in Industrial Arts Education, Industrial Management, and Pre-Engineering.

There are two hundred and thirty Industrial Arts majors and one hundred and thirty Pre-Engineering students associated with the department.

The general objectives of the department are to prepare teachers of industrial arts for public schools and to offer an industrial technical background for those who desire employment in industry or government.

LIBRARY SCIENCE

Department Head--Miss Catherine Clark

The Andrew L. Todd Library, centrally located on campus, has a collection of one hundred thousand volumes. This includes books, periodicals, and newspapers. In addition to the book collection, the holdings of the library also include some periodicals on microfilm, filmstrips, and a small collection of phonograph recordings with facilities available for the use of these.

Miss Catherine Clark is Director of the Library. An able staff of eight librarians and four secretaries are available to students who need assistance in the Library.

The Department of Library Service, under the direction of Miss Leneil Edwards, makes available eighteen hours of credit in Library Service.

The library is the only building on campus which offers the setting for a quiet afternoon of study.

MILITARY SCIENCE

The campus U.S.A. Instructor Group now is staffed by eight commissioned officers and eleven noncommissioned officers. The cadet group, at 1173, is the largest in the history of MTSC's military science program. In addition to the vast formal training program, a portion of which leads to the second lieutenancy in the regular army or reserve, the ROTC sponsors several subsidiary activities. Best known among these are the Sam Davis Drill Team, The Boys' and Girls' Rifle Teams, The Forrest Raiders, and the Track and Sabre Club. The annual Military Ball is a highlight of the social season.

STUDENT LIFE

OH THOSE LAZY, CRAZY, HAZY DAYS OF SUMMER:

Summertime . . . the other world of MTSC: The world of summer school when classes end at noon and renewed grumblings are heard protesting the banning of bermudas from the classroom; . . . a time when the air-conditioned comfort of the Business Building assumes new significance and when Brown's Mill and Walter Hill are popular by day as well as by night; . . . the time of the appearing of new freshman faces which will soon replace the old . . . a time of the disappointment of one lonely little skunk, who found, much to his dismay, that MTSC was not, contrary to what had been advertised, everyone's college!

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME . . .
And Man, that ASB retreat was something else!
It was work and it was fun . . .
The reunion of friends after the summer . . .
Meeting new ones . . . just being outside.
Sure, there was poison ivy . . .
And maybe a little sunburn . . .
But the complaints were happy complaints . . . It was a good way to start the year.
To romp and learn at the same time.
The sun was warm and the water was wet . . .
But when the year began they rolled up their sleeves and they went to work.
. . . More entertainment than ever before
And really big names . . .
More bus trips . . . fun nights . . . movies . . .
The constitution was improved . . .
It was a good year from start to finish.

PLACE CARDS IN THE SAME ORDER AS THEY APPEAR ON THE SCHEDULE
PLACE CARDS IN THE SAME ORDER AS THEY APPEAR ON THE SCHEDULE

THERE'S A LONG, LONG TRAIL AWINDIN'

Or perhaps it would be more accurate to say; "There's a long, long line awindin'" . . . the long line that leads into the darkly mysterious land of learning; whose interminable length is known only to college students who have gone through registration; which leads to the Auditorium (get your cards here), the SUB (red means closed, green means open), the Ad Building (keep your cards in order please), and the Bursars' Office (make checks payable to MTSC) . . . ah, but it does not end there . . . from that intricacies of English and History, Physics and Chemistry, Music and Art, not to mention the mysteries of the Dewey Decimal System; and more often than not, it ends you up behind the 8 ball!

IT'S ALL IN THE GAME . . .

And what a wonderful game it is.
It's a game called life and we play it here.

For some it may be sitting in the tea room . . .
in the confidence of friends . . . acting out the assassination of the prof that gave you the shaft on your last test.

Or perhaps it is the silent symphony that spreads like a stain across the campus late at night . . . The Lettermen in concert . . .

The excitement of being young. Yes, even Minnie Pearl who came to speak to the Wesley Foundation.

That is what college is . . .
A march of events from one day to the next . . .

And you don't have time for them all
Life isn't meant to be that way,
. . . But you enjoy what you can.

HOMECOMING

Intricate floats, the pretty queen and her coronation, returning grads, and sky-dives--all formed the pageantry of Homecoming '63.

THE HILLS ARE ALIVE WITH THE SOUND OF MUSIC . . .

And our campus is no different than the hills.

We had plenty of music . . .

. . . and no one had a monopoly.

Peter, Paul, and Mary . . . How good can you get?

But variety seemed to be the pass word . . .

. . . and there was Norman Luboff . . .

. . . jazz . . . piano concerts . . .

and the opera.

The opera was terrific . . .

and as sweet as a little girl's face.

If you like music . . . any kind . . .

I'm glad you were here this year.

COLLEGE LIFE IS A MANY SPLENDORED THING:

What an amazing variety of many, vari-flavored ingredients compose the potpourri of college life; . . . many experiences, each significant in its own special set of memories; the offbeat humor of the Smothers Brothers or the offbeat music of the Thirsty Thirteen; the warmth of first love or the chillily wonderful world of MTSC in the snow . . . all scenes of which we were a part and which are now a part of us!

I WANT TO HOLD YOUR HAND . . .
And you had to fight to do so.
Were the Beatles here . . .?
No, but the birds were . . .
and they found the college friendly.
But what does this have to do with the art department?
Nothing, except they also go home on the weekend.

OH YES, THEY ARE GREAT PRETENDERS:

That is, if you are speaking of the MTSC Buchanan Players . . . and pretending in a drama group extends far beyond the creation of a character on the stage; in order to produce a play it is necessary to pretend you're rested when you're tired; to pretend you really like to mix pigment and glue and stir it with your hands; to pretend you really don't have an eight o'clock exam after a 12:00 a.m. work session; to pretend you really don't have lessons to get during the endless rehearsal hours; to pretend you really like make-up gook all over your face . . . but there's one thing not pretended . . . the pleasure and appreciation felt by MTSC students for the final product of our drama group.

THERE'S GONNA BE A HOOTENANNY, HOOTENANNY:

And believe me . . . there was a Hootenanny to end Hootenannies when the ASB brought the Traveling Hootenanny to MTSC; the rollicking beat of the Modern Folk Quartet; the bluegrass rhythm of the Knob Lick Upper 10,000 (the name was entertaining enough in itself); the sparkling wit of sophistocated, comic-scholar Dr. Lou Gottlieb; the lyric beauty of Lynn Gold . . . and the . . . the . . . well, what words could describe the antics of Bessie Griffin and the Gospel Pearls. But all in all, it was a Hootin' Hootenanny!

LET IT SNOW, LET IT SNOW, LET IT SNOW . . .
And we did . . . and it did.
It was there one morning . . . white and smooth . . .
and fantastic . . . but it didn't stay long.
It was an old friend . . . it was nice to see him . . .
But we were soon ready for him to leave.

NOBODY KNOWS THE TROUBLE I SEE . . .

Well, it shouldn't be so bad . . .

Now let's see . . . this first one . . .

. . . It seems like it should be . . .

. . . Or maybe it was . . .

Oh darn, they're getting worse . . .

. . . and worse.

WALKING IN A WINTER WONDERLAND

And MTSC was a winter wonderland. There was no wishing for snow this year; we had plenty. It was here, there, everywhere . . . Good to run in, fall in, roll in . . . or if the mood prevailed, it was nice to just stand back and look. We belonged here and so did the snow. Sure, it was cold . . . we knew that, but there is something warm about a college campus complete with snow . . . and MTSC was no exception.

THERE ARE MORE PRETTY GIRLS THAN ONE . . .
And this was true of the Miss Midlander contest . . .
. . . In fact there were twenty-eight and everyone looked like the winner.
There's a thrill that comes from being in a contest but it comes double in a beauty contest.
A tingling of excitement that leaves you breathless . . .
The preparations . . . the work . . . the worry.
Then on the stage . . . nervous . . . waiting.
But still it is fun . . .
and worth the trouble.
CONGRATULATIONS SANDRA!!!

MISS

WE WILL HAVE THESE MOMENTS TO REMEMBER

And there were moments to remember. Moments that someday will return to surround your heart and push a lump into your throat. Your first post office box . . . or maybe one that you have had for years, one that seems like an old friend, a friend you hate to leave. The ball games and the ringing of cheers, loud and excited, through the gym. The cheers will sound again someday, but they will seem far away, and they will echo, not through a gymnasium, but through a valut of memories. The Band of Blue and the fun you had . . . Discussions of art and song . . . And that night (if you were one) that you stood on the stage holding your breath and waiting on the decision. The night the Four Saints were here, loud and funny. The Veterans Club Talent Show, The Andy Goodrich Quartet . . . or just one time that you walked outside in the sunshine and saw the school and realized for the first time that you really loved it, and that some day you would leave.

I CAN'T SIT DOWN . . .

And neither can the squad.

Just a sample of how great the games were.

It was fun to watch the Blue Raiders play . . .

. . . to cheer them on . . .

a good way to relax after classes.

If you like excitement there was plenty of it.

It was great to watch them win . . .

. . . Even the bus trips were fun . . .

But nothing could compare to a close score on the home court.

Basketball at MTSC is a good sport . . .

spectator . . . or player.

REACHING FOR THE STARS . . .
That is a characteristic of MTSC . . .
the desire to do your best . . .
It makes a good student and it makes a good leader . . .
MTSC is a place for leaders.
Ask Carolyn Gwaltney, Miss Home Economics . . . or one of the Superlatives . . .
They each stand for something . . .
the ideals each student has . . .
the goal he hopes to achieve. . .
or maybe that something which we are never really sure of.
We have pride in our school,
We have pride in our leaders.

Fame, far removed from decorating goal (football season) posts, selling tickets for the Smothers (side splitting show) Brothers, and (oh the horror of it all) wee hours spent over term papers. A daily smile has meaning as Election times come hastily speeding.
Homecoming Queen (she was beautiful), superlatives, and Who's Who
And for those (of which we are proud) who gave their best in classes, organizations, in student government
There is the sudden reward. Sometimes Unexpected; sometimes only satisfaction, but always Rightfully deserved. And for Each of those many students who gave of their time and efforts, who gave their support, there's a feeling of having Shared in the accomplishments of those who are honored here.

Attorney General

A. W. Powell, President of the Associated Student Body, has been responsible for planning and co-ordinating the activities of the ASB for 1963-64. Working with the Congress, the President helps to enforce the constitution and by-laws of the student government.

Sally Smith, this year's vice-president, has set a record of accomplishment. Under her direction, the Social Committee provided MTSC students with the widest variety of social activities and entertainment in the history of the school. In addition to her responsibilities for planning and co-ordinating social activities, Sally also served as chairman of Congress and was active in promoting the re-writing of the constitution of the ASB.

Denny Welsh, one of the most popular MTSC seniors, gave the students at the college a most distinguished year service as attorney general of the ASB. As Attorney General, Denny conducted elections, supervised appeals to Supreme Court and was invaluable as advisor to the President. In addition to his activities as Attorney General, Denny also served as vice-chairman of the Tennessee schools holding membership in the Southern Universities Student Government Association. Under his leadership, SUSGA membership in Tennessee doubled.

CONGRESS

Through its legislative activities and related responsibilities, the Congress of the ASB gives continuing service and long hours of hard work in serving the students of MTSC. Members of Congress conduct elections, plan social events, and help to establish school policy by making recommendations in the form of bills to the administration and to the executive officers of the ASB. A major accomplishment of the 1963-64 ASB Congress was the re-writing of the Constitution of the ASB. The members of Congress gave long hours in extra sessions to produce a constitution which they designed to serve for the betterment of student life.

SUPREME COURT

The business of student government is far from being all play and no work. No branch of student government is more aware of this fact than the Supreme Court of the ASB. The members of the court help to lend a greater significance to the purposes of student government of the MTSC campus. As they deal with problems of student discipline and violation of campus regulations, these students put into practical application the basic concepts of self government. Hearings of the court were based on the fundamental assumption that one is innocent until proven guilty.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE AND HOSPITALITY COMMITTEE

The Social Committee and the Hospitality Committee are two of the most active standing committees of the ASB. The members of the social committee are responsible for weekly fun nights, ASB movies, and other activities intended to keep MTSC students from perishing of boredom. The Hospitality Committee is one of the newest additions to the ASB organization. Under the direction of its chairman, Emily Schubert, the members welcome visiting groups, handle arrangements for ASB dinners and parties and serve as advisors on proper etiquette, arrangements and proceedings for social events.

INTER-PRESIDENTS' COUNCIL

The activities of the better than 60-odd organizations on campus are co-ordinated through the proceedings of the Inter-Presidents' Council. This group is responsible for planning such events as Homecoming, Holiday Week-Ends and other campus-wide events. This past year, the policy of closing the library for campus assemblies was altered and studies were made for improving student facilities and student-faculty relationships.

DORM COUNCILS

The representatives composing the Men and Women's Dormitory Councils cooperate with the Dean of Women and the Director of Men's Housing in helping to make life in the campus residence halls more enjoyable. Although the Women's Council serves chiefly a judicial function in helping the Dean of Women enforce dorm regulations, the Men's Council expanded its activities during the past year. Several of the men's dorm councils sponsored dances for their residents, organized a well-rounded program of competition in promoting school spirit, and organized the residents into effective units to solve age-old dorm problems. In addition to their social activities both men and women's dorm councils serve as inferior courts for the Supreme Court of the ASB.

These are the people whom the students and faculty of MTSC consider worthy of praise. Recognition by Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities means that a student has been recommended by the college he attends and accepted by the organization. Selection of nominees is conducted by a campus committee composed of faculty members and student representatives. This committee considers the student's scholarship, leadership, and cooperation in both educational and extracurricular activities. His general citizenship and his promise of future usefulness are also major factors. Membership in Who's Who is the greatest honor that any college senior can receive. M.T.S.C. takes pride in saluting those students who have been accepted for recognition in 1964.

Honor is the compound
Of achievement, intelligence and leadership that
No one yet has quite been able to define
Or analyze; that special something that makes a student Reach beyond himself for a goal, a purpose, unseen, unrealized, but very real
And to pursue that goal with integrity and wisdom;
Realizing the duty of the especially gifted is to serve his fellowman,
Interested in doing his share to make the world a better place to live,
Energetically throwing himself into the art of living;
to be the best possible person he can be . . .
Such is the nature of those students presented here.

KAPPA DELTA PI

TEACHERS OF TOMORROW

Kappa Delta Pi is open by initiation to those students who choose education as a profession. To qualify, each member must show a superiority in academic achievement and must be in the upper academic quintile of students.

This year's activities include: Freshman Scholarship Recognition Banquet and Program; Kappa Delta Pi Roll of Honor; and various meetings during the year. The group is led by Richard Ray, President; Ayne Venanzio, Vice President; Dottie Watts, Secretary; Peggy Monfee, Treasurer; Carole Sanford, Historian-Reporter; and the sponsor, Dr. Homer Pittard lends his support to the group.

PI GAMMA MU

INSPIRING SOCIAL SERVICE TO HUMANITY

The Pi Gamma Mu has three prime objectives that have guided the organization during this year and in years past. First, it strives to improve scholarship in the social studies field. In the second place it attempts to inspire an intelligent approach to the solution of social problems. Last, it attempts to establish better understanding among groups of varying opinions and philosophies.

The organization's activities during the past year included an address by Dr. James Burrows of the History Department; a spring initiation, and of course, the annual banquet.

The officers are: President, Kenneth Mott; Vice President, Ayne Cantrell Venanzio; Secretary, Carole Lowery Shelton; Treasurer, Frank Gordon Irwin. Dr. Roscoe Strickland is the sponsor.

Membership requirements are in keeping with the purposes of Pi Gamma Mu. Candidacy is attained by those having twenty semester hours of social service, with a "B" average; achieving some distinction in the social sciences and having no failing grade in this field.

SIGMA CLUB

SUPERIORITY IN CHARACTER, SCHOLARSHIP, AND LEADERSHIP

One of the greatest single honors that can be bestowed upon a junior or senior man at Middle Tennessee State College is membership in the Sigma Club. The organization incorporates in its requirements for membership all the qualities of personality and intellect which the college has sought to use as a standard since its founding over fifty years ago. Members are selected on the basis of academic achievement, leadership ability and the contributions which they have made to the college as students. The organization emphasizes in its activities an ascendency of the intellectual and spiritual as opposed to the physical and material.

The officers are Ralph Willis, president; Carlton Sivells, vice-president; Billy Dial, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. Gerald Parchment and Mr. Clayton James, sponsors. The highlight of the 1963-64 year for Sigma Club members was the spring banquet at which Dr. Harley Fite an outstanding alumni of MTSC and president of Carson-Newman College was guest speaker.

TAU OMICRON

"TO BUILD RATHER THAN DESTROY"

"Are you going to have TO engraved on your class ring?"--a favorite topic of conversation among TO girls. Membership in this fraternity is a highly coveted honor for any junior or senior girl at Middle Tennessee State College. The qualifications include outstanding scholarship, leadership, and character. Only those women who meet these requirements are asked to become a member.

This year's activities include tow initiation banquets, an alumnae luncheon in the spring, and regular monthly meetings. Those responsible for leading TO members are Dianne Dorris, president; Jane Spencer, vice president; Doris Anderson, secretary; Nancy Arnette, treasurer; and Beverly Montgomery, publicity reporter. Miss Buleah Davis and Dr. Mary Tom Berry are the sponsors.

PI OMEGA PI

BUSINESS ACHIEVES

The honorary business fraternity, Pi Omega Pi, is under the leadership of Mr. William Vaught. ORGANIZATIONS

The 1964 MIDLANDER Staff began work on the yearbook in June of 1963, and it slowly took shape. Putting the yearbook together has been more than drawing layouts, taking pictures, selling ads, writing copy, and meeting or not meeting deadlines. For the staff, it has been a way of life.

We realize that it is not always possible to please everyone with the yearbook because there are always those who will not be satisfied. Some of the criticisms will be understandable, and some will not. But we can make no apologies for this yearbook because we were selected to do the job, and we feel that we have done our best.

EL CIRCULO HISPANO

Organized in the fall of 1962, El Circulo Hispano provides an opportunity for its members to hear and converse in Spanish and to become better acquainted with the cultures of Spanish-speaking countries. In its bi-weekly meetings, a variety of programs feature guest speakers, films, skits, and socials. This year the club expanded its activities to include participation in the homecoming parade. Membership is restricted to the advanced classes. Freshmen maintaining a "C" average in Spanish are invited to join during the spring semester.

BUCHANAN PLAYERS

Members of the Buchanan Players at MTSC receive excellent training in acting, stagecraft, makeup, lighting, and directing. At the weekly meetings members present programs ranging from one-act plays, scenes from three-act plays to special programs. A student must work five hours in some activity each semester in order to remain a member. The officers are Ayne Venanzio, president; Kay Adkins, vice president; Virginia Brannum, secretary; Suzanne Lee, treasurer; and Madeline Davis, representative. Mrs. Dorethe Tucker is the sponsor. In the fall the Buchanan players presented "Anastasia," a three-act play and later in the year staged the opera "L-Elisir D'Amore" for the music department. CIRCLEⓀ

The Circle K Club was established on our campus ten years ago. It is one of five hundred and twenty such clubs on the campuses of colleges and universities of our country that are member clubs of Circle K International.

The motto, "We Build," encompasses two major objectives: (1) to build a better college community through the promotion of service projects on the campus and the surrounding community, (2) to prepare the members for aggressive and useful citizenship through encouraging social fellowship, dynamic leadership, high scholarship, and individual dignity through service to others.

Membership is offered to carefully selected male students at the beginning of each semester. Membership in Circle K is a coveted opportunity and is considered a distinct honor.

As a social club, its members make contact and work with other veterans in weekly meetings and in activities such as the Homecoming float and the annual Talent Show. The 9th Talent Show this year included the selection of a Miss Veterans Club to participate in the Miss Midlander contest. As a service club, its members supported charitable activities including the initiation of a scholarship and emergency loan for veterans, weekly participation at the Veterans Administration Hospital, and the support of an eye glasses fund for needy students.

BLOCK AND BRIDLE CLUB

The emblem at the left is the symbol of the Block and Bridle Club. The perpendicular at the left of the emblem stands for straight moral character, sincerity and honor which the members seek to maintain in all of their connections with animal husbandry. It is placed above all others and members are expected to follow its guidance through an upright moral life. At the right are two distinct curves which complete the letter "B." These fundamentals are the basis upon which the members build their social pleasure, mental energy, and moral force. The block in the upper left of the "B" represents the marketing or material side of their lives. The bridle in the lower loop of the "B" represents the control that the members strive to exercise over themselves so as to always walk and act as a gentleman and a lover of livestock.

T CLUB

One of the most outstanding honors on the MTSC campus as on any intercollegiate sports minded campus is to have lettered in one or more sports sponsored by the school. And the bearers of the letter, a big white T, comprise the honorary organization for outstanding athletes, the T-Club. Promoting interest in athletics among students and alumni and encouraging school spirit, the T-Club sells concessions at basketball and football games and sponsors an all-sports banquet annually. At the close of each year the T-Club presents, as their major project, a gift to the Athletic Department.

SMITH HALL

ST PRESENT-FUTUR

Smith Hall was the first dorm to enter a float in the homecoming parade.

Life in Smith Hall is many things to the boys who reside there. The blare of radios . . . the clatter of typewriters industriously pecking out last minute term papers . . . a last good cup of coffee before calling it a day . . . light filled rooms in the early morning where someone is struggling for tomorrow's exam . . . smoke rising above a table of concentrating card players . . . all these things reflect the life in Smith Hall.

This was a year of first for Smith Hall. The first homecoming float built by a dormitory was entered in the homecoming parade. The boys in the dorm also sponsored a dance and a bonfire in the fall.

Boys representing Smith Hall on the Dorm Council are Terry Peck, Jim Miller, Gary Downs, and Jim Smith.

RODEO CLUB

The Rodeo Club is one of the newer clubs on campus. It was organized in September of 1963 to allow students interested in horses and the sport of rodeoing to combine their efforts and work as a club to promote rodeoing at Middle Tennessee State College. The program of the club is to promote an interest in national intercollegiate rodeoing and send a contesting team representing MTSC to intercollegiate rodeos throughout the South. In April the club presented the first college rodeo at MTSC, and later they sponsored a horse show and a square dance.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN UNION

The SCU is an organization of students at MTSC whose purpose it is to foster a wholesome religious atmosphere on the campus. It strives to aid in developing an understanding of all Christian faiths and to promote cooperation among all religious groups. Believing that a student must grow spiritually as well as mentally and physically to build a well-rounded character and to be truly educated, the SCU provides the opportunity for all the church groups to cooperate in making moral and spiritual values a part of the students' daily life.

The SCU sponsors two principle activities each year which have become popular MTSC traditions. the SCU Tea which is held in the fall and the Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony which is held on the front lawn of the President's home.

The SCU sponsors the annual Christmas Tree Lighting on the front lawn of the President's home.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

One of the most active church affiliated groups on campus is the Baptist Student Union. The program at the BSU Center has been expanded this year to include daily noon devotionals in addition to regular Wednesday evening vesper services.

Striving to help students coordinate their Christian faith with college life, the BSU has included in the program this year such activities as the pre-school retreat, progressive suppers, BSU State Convention, Thanksgiving worship and breakfast, and Christmas and Easter banquets with the foreign students on campus.

Council meetings each week provide a time for plans to be made by the officers: Gaylon Bates, president; Shirley Brackett, vice-president; Joyce Henderson, devotional chairman; Eddie Barham, missions and extension chairman; Judy Steagall, publicity chairman.

Eddie Barham, Mr. Clyde Kimball, BSU Director, Rev. Thomas Bryant, Superintendent of Missions of Concord Association, Shirley Brackett, and Mr. Jesse Smith, Chairman of the BSU Student Committee pose in front of the BSU Center. Members have a discussion at the Pre-School Retreat at Camp Hy-Lake.

Through its social, worship, and service activities its members are given an opportunity to put their convictoins into a positive program of action on the college campus.

A major emphasis of the Canterbury program on the MTSC campus this year has been that of strengthening relationships between the student group and the sponsoring parish, St. Paul's Espicopal Church.

COLLEGIATE COUNCIL FOR THE U.N.

Organized in the fall of 1963 the C.C.U.N. is one of the newest clubs on the MTSC campus. There are 3 major purposes of the club: (1) to make the Charter and the work of the United Nations known to college students. (2) to encourage students to reach conclusions about U.S. policies which both promote our national interest and make American leadership in the U.N. most effective, (3) to develop a student public which takes action upon its beliefs.

DIE DEUTSCHEN KAMERADEN

Die Deutschen Kameraden, commonly known as the MTSC German Club, seeks to acquaint its members with the German culture as well as the language. In its efforts, the club hears guest speakers from near-by colleges and makes advent wreaths to sell annually. New members are selected from better German students at a rush party in the spring.

Mrs. Ortrun Gilbert is the sponsor of Die Deutschen Kameraden. The officers must maintain a 3.00 German average.

STUDENT NEA

With over three hundred members, SNEA is the largest group on Campus. Only those students who are an education major or minor qualify for membership. Members have attended the State Convention in April, the 20th Annual Education Conference, the AST Conferences, AEW Projects, and PTA Programs. Mrs. Charlene Collier, state NEA consultant, was the guest speaker for the year; and the Sacred Harp Singers were the special entertainment for the year. Mr. John Lee and Dr. Clarence Greever are the sponsors.

Georgia Ann Ellis and Charlotte Robinson pull cards before the meeting.

Mary Ann Parker and Albert Posnack serve punch after the meeting.

ART CLUB

To capture the aesthetic moods of man and time and to portray these moods . . . this is the task of the artist. Members of the Art Club have captured and displayed the changing moods of MTSC and the society in which it exists since 1947. The basic purpose of the Art Club is to create an understanding and interest in art, not only for the art student, but for every student on campus. The paintings on display in the SUB lobby were bought by the school from art students on campus.

This year several students are exhibiting work in local restaurants. The highlight of the year for the art student is the annual trip to such cities as New York and Chicago.

BIOLOGY CLUB

The Biology Club strives to promote interest in the various biological fields. The club invites outstanding speakers from the different professions related to biology in order that the members may become acquainted with recent techniques and job opportunities in the various fields. One of the main activities is Stunt Night. The club appropriates part of the proceeds from this to the George Davis Loan Fund. Throughout the year the club also strives to provide fellowship for its members. A Christmas social and a field trip in the spring were two highlights of this year.

For all those students who have successfully completed one semester of college chemistry, the Chemical Association is a welcome into the world of chemistry and a better understanding of that world. Activities such as programs presented by outstanding authorities in various chemistry fields and field trips made to industrial labs help stimulate the students in their endeavor.

PRE-LAW SOCIETY

The Pre-Law Society functions for the purpose of aiding pre-law majors in preparation for the strenuous requirements of law school and the demands of the profession itself. For students who have set such a goal, the society plans activities that will stimulate and develop his professional pride. This year these activities have included outstanding speakers and visits such as the one to "Law Day" at Vanderbilt University. Dr. Norman L. Parks is the group sponsor.

HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION, AND RECREATION CLUB

Fast becoming a tradition at MTSC, the Physical Education Club's Powder Puff Football Game was again one of the most popular events of the school year. The club members, majoring or minoring in physical education, cooperate with other organizations to promote greater school spirit while gaining skill in the profession. Representatives are sent to State and Southern District Conventions each year. Mr. Harry Wagner and Miss Beulah Davis assisted the members as sponsors.

TRITON CLUB

An annual spectacular water show is the inevitable goal of the Tritons, the aquatic club on campus. The show is the proof of the many hours that the members must practice to exercise the beauty of swimming while promoting at the same time water safety. The officers of the Triton Club are Frank Roleff, president; Sandy Irwin, vice president; Bettye Dewitt, secretary; Jay Marie Fogg, treasurer; and Tibby Riel, reporter. LA SOCIÉTÉ FRANÇAISE

The purpose of this newly formed organization is to further the knowledge of the French language and culture among the students enrolled in the French classes of MTSC. This is accomplished by providing opportunities for the practical application of classroom studies, activities involving the use of French films and records, and discussion which is not feasible for classroom use.

Members of the group have travelled to other cities to see French movies and plays. The group sponsored a stunt in the annual stunt night, a contestant for the Miss Midlander Contest, a "fete" on St. Nicolas Day, and a farewell banquet.

PRE-ENGINEERING SOCIETY

The Pre-Engineering Society is open to all those students enrolled in MTSC's three-year pre-engineering curriculum and related fields. To help prepare students for their future endeavor in engineering school, the club took field trips this year to General Electric Company and Shwayder Brothers and had as a guest speaker a member from the American Society for Engineering Education. Meetings of the MENC feature lectures from experts in the field of music. This year's activities have included the sponsorship of the Andy Goodrich Jazz Concert and a series of lectures on the fine points of music.

AMERICAN GUILD OF ORGANISTS

The student guild of the American Guild of Organists honors those in the MTSC music department who are more than average, those who by their efforts and abilities earn and merit extra recognition. The group's motto: "Soli Deo Gloria," (solely to the glory of God) is a good summarization of the organization's purpose and activities. It is designed to raise the efficiency of organists as musicians and to advance worthy religious music.

BLUE

PERCUSSION: Sally Ratcliffe, Bill Skinner, Wayne Simpson, Matt Ward, Jerry House.

Mr. Joseph T. Smith
Director

The Band of Blue has brought untold recognition to MTSC. Movies of its performances are shown as examples of outstanding band activities in training classes throughout the South. The high quality of MTSC's band is the direct result of the top-quality instruction and organization of its co-directors. Mr. Joseph Smith, as capable a humorist and photographer as a band director, is a well-known figure to all students. The marching band is under Mr. Smith's direction.

The only thing that equals the marching performance is its concert performance. Mr. Horace Beasley conducts the impressive spring concert. With leaders possessing outstanding talents and unlimited dedication, it takes only one other element to produce an outstanding band . . . students who are both talented and dedicated, and there is certainly no shortage of such students at MTSC. When all these things are taken into consideration, it isn't surprising that MTSC has the best band in these parts.

"OOF"

Probably one of the newest and most active groups on the MTSC campus is the proud, beret-wearing team called the Forrest Raiders. Forrest Raiders is an elite organization of volunteers from the Advanced Course of the ROTC department. This group engages in extensive extra training in counterinsurgency related subjects. The unit places great emphasis on physical conditioning and the ability to survive and operate under arduous conditions. Members of the Raiders hold various leadership positions throughout the Corps of Cadets and are distinguished by the black beret and the grey citation cord worn around the left shoulder. Although in its infancy, Forrest Raiders has proven in its first year of existence that it is a definite asset to the ROTC department and MTSC as well.

FOOTBALL

It takes something special to make a good football team . . . good men . . . a will to try . . . good coaches . . . and good leaders. This year we had those things. Our boys wanted to win, and they were willing to work for it. They were rough, and they were ready . . . they were eager to show the other teams just how rough and ready they were. They had a good season and we're proud of them.

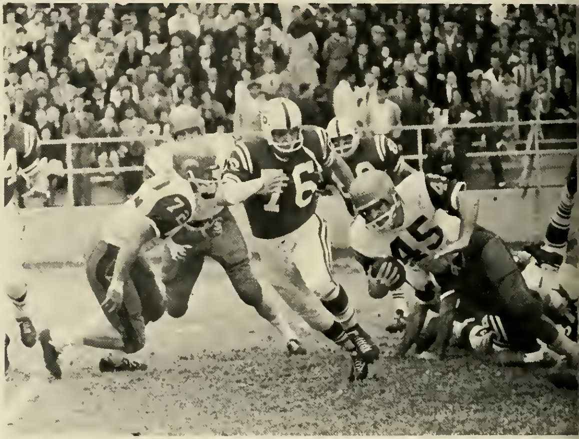
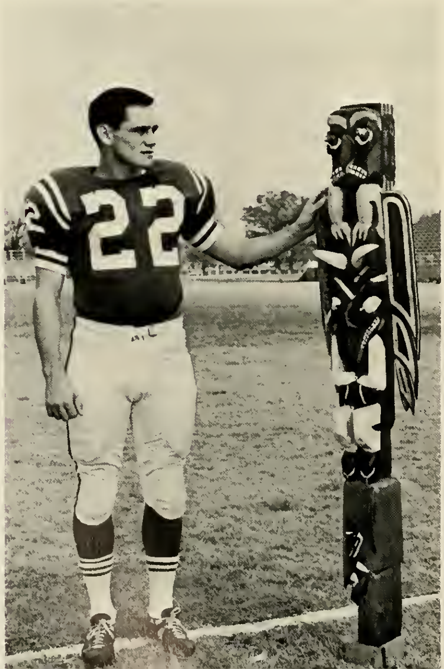
Harvey goes over the top in Florence State game.



Charles Gupton (76) and Eddie Pigue (63) make the going rough for an Eagle.

It wasn't all play and there were those who knew it. It was work, but it was work for something they loved. There was satisfaction in the perfect pop of shoulder leather . . . the brief bone-jolting connection as two people compete with all their heart and strength for an inch of ground. The tenseness of the game . . . standing before kickoff . . . watching the chain stretch and hoping . . . It was work and it was pain . . . but each grunt and each groan brought us closer to the "Turkey Game" and winning the totem pole.

Jim Harvey holds our friend "Harvey."



No one can say on a printed page how much work goes into making a successful football team. The long hours of practice are completely unbelievable to those that have never been there . . . those that have never stood in the heat of sunny September days . . . the chill of the Autumn evenings . . . they cannot understand. And there are so many to whom we have not space not time . . . but yet who deserve . . . to give credit. We can only say to them all "a job well done."

Dykes goes for yardage after catching a pass.

The Raider's victories did not come easy. Practice makes perfect and they had plenty of it. Long, hard hours in the afternoon . . . play's run time and time again for coaches that seemed unbelievably particular . . . passes down pat . . . blocks almost perfect. They learned when to move and how. They had a good season, and they earned it.

BASKETBALL

The spirit of winter was over the campus, but it did not apply to the boys, working, rehearsing in the MTSC gymnasium. They wanted a winning season, and were out to get it. Coach Stokes was always ready with the word, expression at just the right moment. It was glum weather outside; but inside the Blue Raider gymnasium, there was fire. The boys wanted to win and the students were behind them.

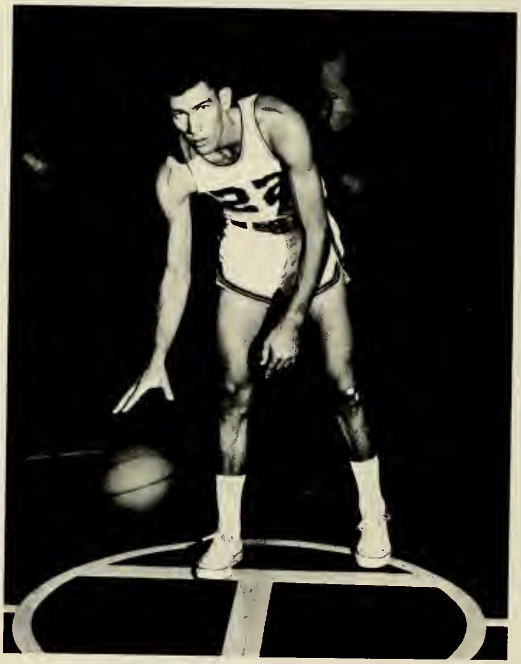
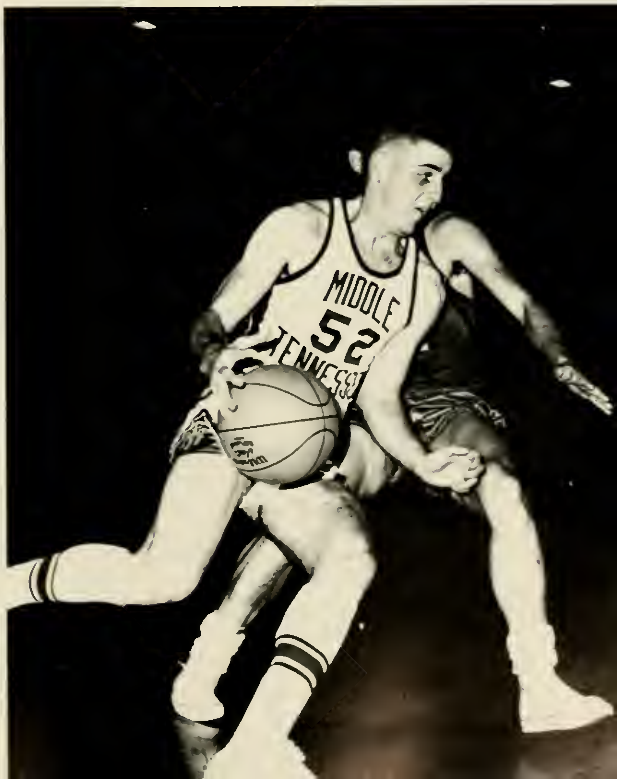
Captain Larry Stewart



We seldom go to pieces during our games.

Dr. Quill Cope is one of the Raider's most loyal fans.

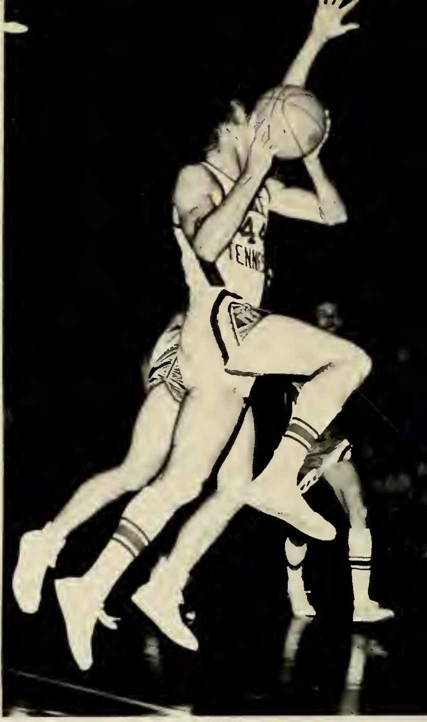
Ron Wilmouth drives in for a lay-up.



There is no describing the speed and reality of a basketball game. Only a picture such as this can capture the action and confusion of the game. The strain of the players . . . hot, sweating . . . the heat, the tension of the game . . . the cheers of the fans. The comments hurled like bottles at the referee and sometimes just as injurious. But it is not all physical, just as important is the mental side of basketball . . . the planning, the worry as Coach Stokes walks the floor . . . the carefully calculated shots . . . all of these help to make basketball one of the most favored sports of MTSC students.

Mike Millholland drops in two more against Murray State.

Anxious Raiders await the outcome.



Millholland drives around a Tech Eagle.

Jim Spencer goes high for a rebound against Murray.

Who can single out the drive that makes a player want to compete . . . to win? An urge that grows inside . . . impossible to hold back . . . impossible to define, yet clearly defined in the expressions of the boys watching from the bench. A desire that stretches human muscles . . . strains arms or legs to grasp a rebound . . . to block a shot. A feeling which creeps into the crowd and hides in their emotions . . . until the team, the spectators, the coach . . . all are united in one thought. WE MUST WIN!!!

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Often overshadowed by the glory of the varsity, we find the freshman team, the boys upon whose ability and desire to play lies the possibility of future winning teams. They too practice long and hard, but are withheld from their glory . . . not without reason . . . for their time will come . . . Nights when they too may control the fate of a conference game. Nights when boys like Ed "Boom-Boom" Cannon, Bill Boner, and Greg Samuels will be called upon to contribute their best for the team. There comes both the agony and the ecstasy, but it remains their sport, and they love it.

Coach Ken Trickey gives instructions during time-out in the game with UT freshman team.

MTSC stars have been credited with breaking old OVC records at least once during each season and establishing new ones.

GET SET . . .

And on the basis of the returning tracksters and the strength of their past showings, this year's track team appears to be getting set to establish the finest of all the records made at this college.

GO!

The 1964 track team had not entered competition when this Edition of the MIDLANDER went to press, but practice sessions gave adequate evidence that they were off in hot pursuit of an OVC track championship in 1964.

Coach Joe Black Hayes

L-R: Richard Roache, Frank Halliburton, Maxie Boles, Junior Ward, Ray Cooper.

Ray Cooper and Maxie Boles demonstrate the first burst of energy that is evidenced when they're off and running.

Frank Halliburton strains for that last extra inch that makes the difference between winning and losing.

Junior Ward and Richard Roche share the sweetest moment of athletic competition . . . the moment of triumph, when victory has been realized and the struggle has paid off.

GOLF

MTSC athletic coaches have a strange propensity for striving to make themselves legends during their own lifetime. Coach Charles "Bubba" Murphy, more commonly known as the "Scourge of the OVC" has done this in football, and his colleague, Coach Elbert Patty, seems determined to make himself known as the most outstanding golf coach in this area . . . and beyond. Coach Patty's golf teams have denied victory to an impressive number of OVC contendors during the past year . . . a number impressive enough to credit MTSC with the title of OVC Golf Champions for the past four seasons. Natural skill and long hours of concentrated practice and training have combined to make the members of the golf team one of the most effective athletic units on our campus.

Coach
Dr. Elbert Patty

L-R: Larry Jones, Ken Victory, Richard Davenport, Teddy Morris, Charles Reeder, batter.

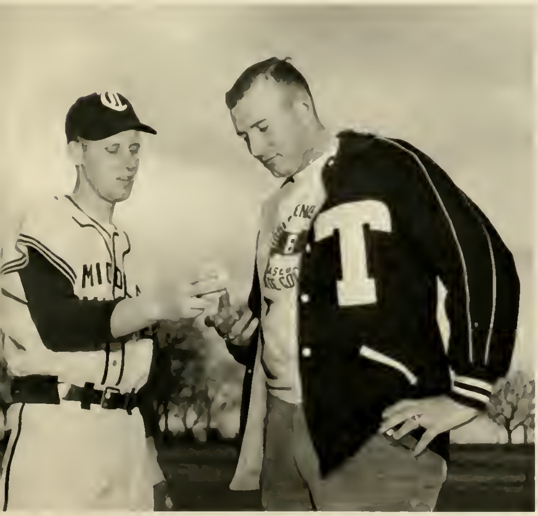
Coach Ken Trickey

BASEBALL

MTSC has acted in a manner that could be termed "unconstitutional" in their treatment of Coach Ken Trickey. Coach Trickey must suffer what is known as "double jeopardy." Not only must he suffer the agonies of producing a winning basketball team, but his troubles are not ended with the basketball season. He must, as soon as the strain of the roundballers is lifted, begin to concentrate on living up to his past record of excellence in coaching MTSC baseball. Coach Trickey promises to give MTSC a 1964 team that will offer a formidable challenge to any OVC contender.

Eddie Hobson, Catcher; Charlie Reeder, Batter.

All OVC Pitchers: Roger Hedrick, Jack Day.



Martin Jobe

INTRAMURALS

Although MTSC does not have an organized program of intercollegiate athletic competition for women students, the Women's Athletic Association provides an excellent program of intramural activities for female students. Competition between rival campus organizations contending for intramural championships is often keener than that which exists between many colleges. Basketball, bowling, ping pong, tennis, and aquatic sports are only a few of the variety of athletic opportunities provided by the Women's Athletic Association.

INTRAMURALS

The program of intramural sports at MTSC is under the direction of Coach Harry Wagner. This year's program of campus athletic activities has been the best in the history of the college. Traditional sports such as basketball and football have been strengthened and competition increased considerably. In addition to these mainstays of intramural activity, new areas of competition such as tennis, tumbling, archery, bowling, swimming, and ping-pong have been included. A most popular aspect of the "new look" in the 1964 intramural program was the contests conducted between the intramural champions of Middle Tennessee State College and its arch-rival, Tennessee Polytechnic Institute. MTSC won, needless to say, and on top of taking the totem pole at that! This is what is more commonly known as adding insult to injury.

TENNIS

Also included in the athletic program is the MTSC tennis team. Hoping to better their last season, under the leadership of their new coach, Mr. Buck Bouldin, they advance in high spirits. MTSC is growing, both in academic standards and in sports competition. The growth and skill of our tennis team is testimony to this.

Coach Bouldin demonstrates a swing to Jim Snapp and Richard Birch.

CHEERLEADERS

Pleading, cajoling, demanding
. . . these are our cheerleaders
. . . the symbols of our spirit
. . . our front window-dressing
. . . our personality
. . . there somewhere between the stands and our sweating athletes
. . . necessary as a rim on a wheel, but cuter.

"Go, Raiders!"

" . . . stand up and holler!"

The Romantic South

The Freshman year . . .
Cheerful, strange
Those first (goodness how different college is) classes, never to be forgotten.
The Sophomore year . . .
Long, so very (seemingly) long,
but more settled.
The Junior year . . .
A feeling of anticipation,
worry and suspense even.
The Senior year . . .
Satisfaction (finally at last)
of a job well done.
Spanish you could not learn.
Memories, a ringing bell,
a hurried Exchange of words, a scramble for seats, and Silence as the professor enters.
(Well, almost silence)

BOOK REVIEW DIGEST

The Andrew L. Todd Library houses over 84,000 books, periodicals, and newspapers.

The 1964 MIDLANDER was printed in the offset lithographic process by the American Yearbook Company of Hannibal, Missouri. The editor is indebted to Mr. James Gilmore, company representative, whose suggestions for layout and refinement of early ideas were most helpful. Faculty members rendering most valuable assistance in this year-long enterprise were Mr. Joe Smith whose sharp, imaginative photos are a credit to any yearbook in the country; Dr. William Beasley for careful reading of copy; and Dr. Bealer Smotherman for his photographic contributions including portraits of underclassmen.

The editor is proud to point to at least three firsts in the production of the current book. The 1964 MIDLANDER has more pages of processed color than ever before, the largest financial spread in funds from advertising, and by far the largest number of entries in the annual MISS MIDLANDER contest. Janice Alsup, the superb business manager, deserves accolades for her systematic solicitation and collection plans. Mr. Tommy Martin, local insurance executive, rendered yeoman service to Janice in the early stages of the advertising contacts.

Much credit is due the many staff members who spent countless hours in assembling, sorting, and checking copy and especially to A. W. Powell and Jerry Hookey for their lively, jingling prose poetry that illuminate many pages of the book. The editor is grateful to Mrs. Jill Pearson, secretary in the Alumni Office, who assisted in typing final copy, answered the telephone, and in general minded the store while the editor was attending classes or eating.

Murfreesboro commercial photographers who made significant contributions to the yearbook are Mr. Sam Causey of Delbridge Studios and Mr. Richard Shacklett of Shacklett Studios.

The line drawing delineating the "Raider" on page 2 is borrowed from FAMOUS LEADERS AND BATTLE SCENES OF THE CIVIL WAR (Mrs. Frank Leslie, Publisher, 1896.) The quotation from Henry's AS THEY SAW FORREST is used by permission of Mr. Seale Johnson, McCowat-Mercer Press, Inc., Jackson, Tennessee.
